

5 Ways

Cloud-Based AP Automation Solutions Make WFH Possible Anytime Anywhere.

Cloud-based accounts payable (AP) automation solutions enable accounts payable departments to maintain frictionless business operations, even when staff work remotely or are on-the-go.

84%

of AP teams are working from home or will start to establish a work from home (WFH) process.*

Here are five ways that cloud-based AP automation solutions keep AP processes moving when employees cannot be in the office.

1. Fewer Manual Tasks

The smart data extraction technology, AI machine learning, automated GL coding, and PO matching built into cloud-based AP automation solutions eliminates the menial tasks that bog staff down like manual data entry.

2. Fast Approvals

Cloud-based AP automation solutions ensure timely payment of invoices by digitally routing invoices for approval using dynamic workflows that can be tailored to the organization's needs or situation changes to automate the entire Purchase-to-Pay process.

3. Real-Time Visibility

Gain real-time visibility into each step of the AP workflow and stop losing documents. Access the metrics that finance executives will need to help their organization grow with cloud-based AP automation solutions.

4. Easy Deployment

Cloud-based AP automation solutions can be deployed without a large upfront capital expenditure, complicated hardware and software installation, or a tricky network integration.

5. Ironclad Security

Leading cloud-based AP automation solutions incorporate the highest level of security with user authentication, role- and user-based permissions, automatic detection of inconsistent data and duplicates, separation of duties, logging of all activities performed in the system, and readily available audit information.

Easy | Powerful | Smart

Cloud-based accounts payable solutions provide organizations of all sizes with the flexibility, control, and accountability needed to keep their invoice processing moving when staff work remotely.
